Brigham Pendleton Design Moves to Portsmouth

Growing web design and development company moves to Portsmouth, Green Street location.

Portsmouth, N.H. (July 1, 2004)—Brigham Pendleton Design has moved its business, relocating to office space in downtown. The move was prompted by a growing array of new clients ranging from educational and retail companies to technology, health care, and entertainment. The new office space, located at 53 Green Street, Portsmouth, NH, will provide easier access for clients and stronger collaboration with professional web and marketing specialists in the area.

“It is very exciting to be a part of the thriving downtown business community,” says Brigham Pendleton, owner and creative director of Brigham Pendleton Design. “Portsmouth is the hot-bed of creative energy in New Hampshire and we are happy to be a part of the region’s creativity and growth.”

About Brigham Pendleton Web Design & Development

Based in Portsmouth, NH, Brigham Pendleton Design provides web site design and development, consultation, print design, and identity design. We provide for our clients solutions that look beyond the here-and-now. We strive to work closely with our clients, listening to their needs and objectives to gain an understanding of their present and future goals. We then develop a solution that utilizes both a unique-yet-intuitive design as well as structurally sound core, laying a solid foundation from which they can grow.
